NEW GHOULS, NEW RULES! NAKED VIRTUAL BOXING IS BACK WITH A NEW LOOK IN FALLOUT 76

6 virtual boxers bring their new feral ghoul character builds into the ring for the first time

The Mire, Fallout 76, XBOX, October 24, 2025 – The El Gato Pub and its legendary championship boxing venue, The Litter Box, are once again setting the stage for one of the most unique community-driven events in the Fallout 76 universe: Ghoul Fights. Known for its roots in the iconic Cat Fight Nights series—hailed as a cornerstone of championship boxing within Fallout 76—the event returns with a new Mire based venue and a thrilling twist: the introduction of new ghoul character builds, recently made possible through Fallout 76’s latest character customization update. Originally featured in Bethesda’s Community Spotlight, Cat Fight Nights began in 2019 as a quarterly melee brawling event, focused on raw skill, friendly PVP, and immersive in-game storytelling. Now rebranded and reanimated as Ghoul Fights, this unarmed, no-armor, no-enhancements brawl continues the tradition of bringing players together in gritty, high-stakes competition. “This is a huge leap forward for us,” says XREDDER (Shredz), owner and mastermind behind the El Gato Pub and The Litter Box. “With the ghoul builds, we’re seeing incredible creativity in character development. These new mutations, feral builds, and perk cards bring an entirely new rhythm and strategy to the ring.” This month’s event is an explosive night as we launch our inaugural match ups. With the ultimate winner stumbling away with 4000 ATOMS in prize money. Strict rules are enforced to maintain fairness, including bans on performance enhancers and environmental exploits, ensuring that every win is earned through timing, tactics, and tenacity. Excitement is palpable. “We haven’t had sanctioned fights in quite some time, and have been looking forward to the new “Play as a Ghoul” option Bethesda added to the game to see what these feral fighters can do!” adds Shredz. Viewer engagement is also central to the event’s success. Fans tuning in on Twitch can win prizes by betting on fighters, and the action promises to be top-tier. The El Gato Pub and Litter Box crew—along with all participating contenders—are amped to deliver a night of unforgettable fights for the Fallout 76 community.
